

Student and Young Investigator Section (SYIS)

About us

Student involvement is a critical component of TERMIS. SYIS provides a platform for the "next generation" of scientists and engineers in the field of tissue engineering and regenerative medicine to interact. SYIS aims to further the professional and scientific development of its members. The TERMIS definition for a Student member is any individual, who is engaged as a full-time graduate or undergraduate, in a university or college program and is actively involved in research in the field of tissue engineering and regenerative medicine. Young Investigators are defined as persons who are employed by an academic institution in the field of tissue engineering and regenerative medicine, who have been awarded their doctoral degree within the past 3 years and who are not holding an appointment as a faculty or academic staff in a university/research institute.

TERMIS SYIS is pleased to host an information desk during the TERMIS-WC 2018.

This information desk will serve as a hub to share details about the SYIS events going on throughout the conference.

If you want to take part in these events, please go to the website (<https://www.termis.org/wc2018/syis-events.php>) or visit us at our booth.

- SYIS Poster Presentation Award

Date: September 5 (Wed), 2018 13:10 - 14:10

Location: Event Hall

Availability: No restrictions

TERMIS-WC 2018 SYIS council members evaluated the abstracts for SYIS Poster Presentation except for the above mentioned ones for SYIS Poster Rapid Fire Presentation Awards and the top 17 abstracts of SYIS poster sessions were selected as a candidate for SYIS Poster Presentation Award. The SYIS council members will evaluate each poster presentation during the session and decide the awardees. Award ceremony for winners will be held in the Closing Ceremony.

- SYIS Meet the Mentor Lunch

Date: September 6 (Thu), 2018 11:45 - 12:35

Location: Room Swan

Availability: 150 members (Ticketed Event) ★

The Meet the Mentor Lunch gives students and young investigators the opportunity to enjoy an invigorating plated lunch with faculty mentors and leaders of the Tissue Engineering and Regenerative Medicine fields. Mentors include session chairs, members of the Scientific Advisory Committee, and local industry leaders.

- SYIS Career Panel

Date: September 6 (Thu), 2018 14:30 - 16:00

Location: Room 10 (C-1)

Availability: 150 members (Ticketed Event) ★

This discussion panel will consist of professionals representing careers in different back grounds, such as academia, industry, government agencies and institutes, and entrepreneurial activities. This is a great opportunity for students and young investigators to hear the recent experiences of these scientists in choosing their career paths, the opportunities and challenges of their chosen career, and providing advice on how you can achieve your career goals. This interactive panel is designed to facilitate open discussion, and to allow students and young investigators to have their questions answered by the panel and other attendees. At previous meetings, this event has been very beneficial for students and young investigators thinking about pursuing a career in any of these fields.

- SYIS Chairing for the SYIS chaired sessions

Date: September 5 (Wed) - 7 (Fri), 2018

Location: Room 10 (C-1)

The program committee selected 63 oral presentations of students and young investigators for the SYIS chaired sessions, which provides a unique platform for students and young investigators to get first-hand experience moderating scientific discussions.

- SYIS Co-Chairing (throughout the symposia) ★

This event provides a unique platform for students and young investigators to co-chair sessions with leading scientists and get first-hand experience moderating scientific discussions. Please use the sign-up sheet below to indicate interest- a follow-up survey will be sent to those interested with available sessions.

- Presenting Ceremony of SYIS Awards (at the same time of Closing Ceremony)

Date: September 7 (Fri), 2018 18:20 - 19:20
